

Fees for J, F, M Visas to the United States

Applicants applying for Student (F, M) and Exchange Visitor (J) Visas* have to pay two separate fees before the Non-Immigrant Visa unit can finalize the visa application.

- Visa Process (MRV) fee of $160 (1120sek) - has to be paid before scheduling an appointment with the Non-Immigrant Visa unit. For more information regarding the Visa Process fee see, www.ustraveldocs.com/se/se-niv-visafeeinfo.asp
- I-901 (SEVIS) fee – Is paid by the principal applicant (F-1, J-1, M-1) to the Department of Homeland Security through, <https://fmjfee.com/i901fee/desktop/students/formSelection.htm>. The amount of the fee is depending on the type of program and varies between $20-$200. More information regarding the I-901 fee should be provided by the US School, or the Exchange organization. The applicant should bring proof (printed receipt) of the paid I-901 fee to the visa appointment.

Some nationals might be subject to an additional reciprocity fee (what another country charges a United States citizen for a similar-type of visa). Swedish citizens are not subject to a reciprocity fee. To see if your country is subject to the reciprocity fee see: <http://travel.state.gov/content/visas/english/fees/reciprocity-by-country.html>

Exchange visitors who are sponsored by the US Government are exempted all fees. This only applies to applicants who are participating in programs starting with number G-1, G-2, G-3, or G-7 (stated in box 2 of the 'Certificate of Eligibility for Exchange Visitor Status, Form DS-2019')*
